OZARK.

Mrs. James Holladay and Miss Lillian Holladay were shopping in Columbia Friday.

Miss Beattie Holladay, of Zion, visited Miss Beattie Wagner last Thursday.

Little Miss Allie Garnett, of Glenford, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Scott.

Mr. Ralph Wagner spent several days last week on Glenford.

Tom Holladay hooked several nice fish last week on Russell creek.

Mrs. Mollie Holladay, of Zion, had a fine mare from an unknown cause Monday night.

Mr. Ely Bailey, of the same neighborhood, also lost a horse.

Alvin Young is teaching a subscription school at Zion.

Forney Sallee has sold his personal property and moved with his family to Russell county.

We understand that the distillery a short distance above here has begun operation.

Miss Zilpha Dunbar visited in Columbia a few days ago.

The Somerset road is almost impassable from this place to Russell creek bridge. These places should be worked before somebody sticks or breaks down.

Hog cholera has broken out afresh in this vicinity and hogs are dying every day. Mr. James Holladay had a fine bunch of hogs on his range and he told your correspondent that all of them were dead.

There was some talk of petitioning the Magistrate court for a hog law—or if preferred a general stock law—in order to be held securely as the law will allow and effective only in this vicinity unless other communities or precincts desire to unite with us. The hog law is a good law for the people and for the hog. It is economy inasmuch as it saves timber and time in fencing and by keeping the hog from the range it saves it from cholera. It is a well known fact that in countries where the hog law prevails, cholera is unknown, and hogs are plentiful. By keeping your hogs up and feeding them wholesome food the breed is better and free from disease. The hog law will compel your neighbor to keep his hogs up and soon cholera will be a thing of the past by reason of keeping the hog from the range and other noxious things which he must eat on the range or starve. The hog law brings many benefits and few disadvantages except to the large, selfish fellow who has rather risk his hogs taking the cholera on the range and imparting it to the whole community than to raise more corn to feed them on. Your correspondent is under the impression that this vicinity is free of this disease and that being the case, if the matter is put to a vote it will carry by a large majority. Let's have the hog law or if you like give us the general stock law. We need it badly.

KNOB LICK.

Mumps are prevalent in this community.

Mr. Jonathan Reed, who has been quite sick with la grippe, is improving.

Miss Minnie Taylor has been visiting Mrs. Pearl Pendleton, at Toledo.

There is a great deal of corn yet unharvested. But farmers are now trying to get it in, since the weather has moderated.

Corn is worth forty cents per bushel, delivered.

There is some demand for stock hogs at 5 to 6 1/2 per pound.

Messrs. Payne, of Carter Dry Goods Co., and McLean, of Manier Dunbar Co., called on our merchants a few days ago; also Messrs. Brown, of Altshuler & Co., and Louden, of Johnson Brothers.

Mr. Frank Edwards and Miss Lillian Henry were married on the 14th inst., at Pleasant Valley, in the presence of a large crowd. Rev. T. S. Thompson officiated.

B. H. Barton & Co., have sold their entire stock of goods to Mr. Bob Miller, of Edmonston. Mr. Miller will remove to this place and continue the business in the same house. Barton & Co., have done a flourishing business and their friends regret to see them retire. But in Mr. Miller we expect to have an enterprising merchant, a good citizen and gentleman. We welcome him heartily.

On the night of the 14th, about 9 o'clock, the Butler Mill owned and operated by Thompson & Embrie, of this place, took fire and burned to the ground in a very few minutes. It caught fire in the upper story, and was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. There had been no fire in the mill that day, and when Mr. Thompson first discovered the fire it was confined entirely to the upper story—no fire in the engine room at all. The mill was about ready to fall when first discovered and consequently there was no chance to save the building. They were carrying $1,500 insurance, which is one third cost of the mill. This is the second mill to burn on the same grounds in the last seven years. Certainly an incendiary is very little removed from the murderer.

Miss Sallie Price, who was reported to have been seriously hurt, by having been thrown from a horse during the cold spell several days ago, we are glad to note was not seriously hurt and is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. Maude Thompson and her two little children, left a few days ago for California where she expects to join her husband who preceded her some two months. Quite a number of our people are seeking homes in California and Oklahoma of late, and many more are seriously considering a change of location.

AFEW FACTS.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition (the World's Fair) will commemorate the centennial of the purchase of the great Louisiana Territory by the United States from France, and will be far the greatest international event of this character within this century.

It will cover 1,200 acres of land, have 300 acres of exhibit space, and will cost, approximately $400,000,000.

All Nations, States, Territories, Provinces and Colonies will participate and present in highly-classified arrangement the achievements of modern civilization in the arts, sciences and industries.

Dedications of the grounds and buildings will be held with fitting ceremony, April 30, 1903, the centennial anniversary of the purchase. Exposition will open one year later.

The price paid for the Louisiana Territory was $15,000,000, and the land acquired was about one million square miles, more than doubling the area of the United States at that time.

Total funds for the World's Fair to be paid by the State and Government appropriations, $20,000,000.

United States Government's appropriations: $5,000,000 for general fund; $200,000 for building; $200,000 for exhibits; $400,000 for Indian exhibit; $5,000 for life saving station; $250,000 for Philippine exhibit.

City of St. Louis appropriated $5,000,000 and citizens of St. Louis appropriated $5,000,000; State of Missouri appropriated $1,000,000.

Balance of money appropriated by other various States and Territories.

Main group of World's Fair buildings arranged in the form of a fan, the arcades forming the apex at the southwest; large exhibit buildings will be fifteen in number, main entrance to be upon the Grand Avenue at north-east corner of the grounds.

The administration of the affairs of the exposition is in the hands of ninety-three directors.

Important features will be: The airship tournament, in which prizes to the amount of $150,000 will be awarded; the series of international congresses, in which distinguished savants from all parts of the world will participate, the great horse show upon fashionable lines; the dairy test; the athletic events, etc.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be nearly twice as large as any former exposition, and will show the life and activity of the nations of the world.

St. Louis, city of the exposition, fourth city in population in the United States, was unanimously chosen as the place for holding the World's Fair by a convention of delegates appointed by the Governors of States and Territories within the original purchase.

The Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railway is the World's Fair line from Louisville, Owensboro and Kentucky points.

DEATH OF EDITOR GONZALES.

Great public sympathy goes out to the brave editor who lies dead in Columbia, S. C., the victim of a desperate tragedy. The fight he made against the grim reaper was such a one as was to be expected of a man of his iron constitution and spirit, but when was mind the master of death?

Gonzales' splendid vitality and the favorable condition of his system could not save him. The end came at 1:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the city that honored his citizenship and professional services hung mournfully upon his expiring breath and those who were near and dear surrounded him.

In many respects Mr. Gonzales was a remarkable man. In his personal make-up and career there was much that is usually dominated by picturesqueness. He was a fighting man, in the sense that implies honor and patriotism, and there was a dash and nerve about him that made him a man of the hour.

He had the ideals and fervent nature inherent from his Cuban blood, tempered by the best blood of the south. He may have been impulsive, but his heart was in the right place and reason resided in his head. He was one of those indefinable, truth-loving souls that will not meekly brook what appears to be hypocrisy and wrong, and in his field of labor he found abundant exercise for the protector's pen, and he wielded one as fearlessly as he did a sword.

United Editor Gonzales attacked men and measures, he was generally supported by the public conscience. At least, he believed he was right, and there was no policy about him.

The dead editor was long a distinguished figure in the political affairs of the Palmetto State, and with such a nature he could not but have himself felt. He served for a brief time, but with conspicuous gallantry, as an officer in the Cuban army of liberation. He built up one of the strongest journals in his state by dint of pluck and tireless energy, in the face of seeming insuperable obstacles. He had many admirable and noble qualities, and the one that was responsible for his untimely taking off was not the least admired of his fellow-men.

May he rest in peace.—Atlanta Constitution.

FORDOMED TO FAILURE.

President Roosevelt has started out on a task which no despot ever performed in the world's history. He is a progressive and tested man, one that must admit to full equality another race which is a terrible burden upon industrial effort and a threat to social order.

Throughout the South the whites are uneasily devoting resources and thought to the uplifting of the negro. Though the public generosity in this respect is notable, it is not the greater part of the generosity and care bestowed upon the dependent race. In every city, village and county of the States where the negro population is considerable the whites furnish the money for building negro churches, the organization which supplies remuneration for labor and the charity which tides the improvident families through misfortune.

If all this sacrifice were calculated in dollars and cents, and compared with the total resources of Southern whites, the result would astonish the Southerners themselves and furnish to the world the most heroic example of altruistic purposes.

The President of the United States has, either for politics or from ignorance of conditions, inaugurated a "Lincoln's Neglected Birthplace." "The Birthplace of the American Flag," and George Gibbs' picture illustrating the Bonhomme Richard, speak of the quality of the magazine. The fiction includes "The Fight of Penella," short stories by Clara Morris and Tudor Jones. The Nature Study Club deals with the American Hawks. There is a page of unusually beautiful theatrical pictures. The author of the famous "Bunny" stories is writing a series of children's tales. All the departments are full of timely suggestions. Mrs. Herrick tells how to give a Sunday-night supper. Miss Gould describes the latest fashions, and there are some excellent suggestions for evening entertainments. Published by The Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

REV. J. F. CLAYCOMB.

Pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, has just entered upon his labors with great earnestness, and proposes to do everything in his power to extend the influence and promote the growth of this organization.

The membership is well pleased with the new pastor. He is a native of Pennsylvania, born in 1873. He completed the seminary course in the theological department of Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn., in 1896, and his first pastorate was at Evans, in this state, where he remained during 1899 and 1900. Through considerations of health he removed to Fairview, Ky., and for fifteen months was supply of a circuit there. An abiding longing to return to Oregon found its satisfaction in a call from his church. His family consists of a wife and two young children.—McMinnville Oregon Reporter.

NO TRAMP.

A weary William applied at a farm house for the loan of some clothing. "Madam," said the tourist with dignity "it is no tramp that stands before you but a gentleman that is the victim of his own generosity. I had an abundance of clothes, but when I called at the house up the road here to pay my respects to a poor, hungry dog, who has an appetite for clothes, came out and looked at me so appealingly that I was touched, and before I left I fed the famished animal on the skirts of my coat and the bosom of my pants. He didn't seem to be entirely satisfied and if you will loan me another coat and a pair of pantaloons I will leave the remnants I have on and you can send them over to the dog so he can have a full meal. My generosity, madam, is the only thing that kept me from being a millionaire."—Ex.

A MARRIED MAN'S MUSINGS.

It is not easy to understand why our wives should seek political honors, which is already a Speaker of the House.

Scientists say woman can hear sounds that men cannot. Those of imaginary burglars for instance.

When a fellow once permits his wife to cut his hair, at that moment he enters upon a life of abject servitude.

Two years after I was married I was asking all my friends how to teach the baby to talk. Two years later we had a consultation of experts on how to keep it quiet.

There are no profane words in the Japanese language, which illustrates the handicap under which a Japanese husband labors when he discovers that his wife has been cutting his pet razor for a can opener.

Casey county has as many clever men to the square mile as any county in the State and Jim Collier, who was among the court-day visitors to Danville yesterday is one of them. His son-in-law, Bud Gibson, who was for many years clerk of the Circuit court, at Casey, is another one. These gentlemen represent two political faiths but are equally popular among democrats and republicans. Casey is not a rich county but her people are all comfortable living, and are good customers of Danville business houses. The county has also furnished plenty of business men to our local enterprises.—Danville News.

The Woman's Home Companion for February is a gem of a number. "Lincoln's Neglected Birthplace," "The Birthplace of the American Flag," and George Gibbs' picture illustrating the Bonhomme Richard, speak of the quality of the magazine. The fiction includes "The Fight of Penella," short stories by Clara Morris and Tudor Jones. The Nature Study Club deals with the American Hawks. DON'T GO WEST.

A former Warren county man, writing from Kansas to the Glasgow Times, says: "Dear reader, don't think I am blue-sick to begin with, for I think I have been in the west long enough to get over that. If I am home-sick now I greatly fear I always will be. I say, don't go west if you have a home, especially people on the shady side of life, for if they do they will never be satisfied as long as they live. If they come west they are sure to get homesick and, if they have enough left, they will go back and find that the old home is gone; that some one else will be sitting around the family fire-side, and that they will not feel as they fancied they would. So they will pay for the west again, and we can imagine by this time that the proceeds of the little home have about been exhausted and they will have to begin life anew. How much better it would have been had they stayed at the old home, where faces are familiar and the same old church where you have passed so many pleasant hours. This is the greatest objection I have to this 'New West.' I have been in Kansas for a number of years, and have attended a great many so-called revivals of religion, but have never been able to see any old-time religion made manifest. When you come to this 'New West' you will find a new religion. I think 'dry-eyed religion' would be the proper name for it. In all the meetings I have attended I have never seen a tear shed. That kind of religion may be all right, but the old-time religion is good enough for me; and that is why I say to people don't break up and go west, for I know it will not suit them. As for my part I have had very good success since I landed here, but if I had not been financially embarrassed I would never have left old Kentucky. I had got to the point where I had to make a change and so I drifted here, and I know from the experience of others that I would never be contented there any more. As for as health is concerned I think the west is a healthier climate than the east, but I don't see that people live any longer here than they do there.

CUT THIS OUT, BOYS.

Any sensible young man ought to know that he can't be up late at night, and his stomach can't be full of food, and his faculties for business the next day. And he ought to know, also, that a man must be clear-headed and in full possession of his faculties to hold his own in the keen competition of life. Your "good fellow" is popular for the time being, but when his money is gone and he has lost his job and is on his uppers the "good fellow" business doesn't get him anything. It's "poor fellow" then. Another "good fellow" goes wrong, and the "boys" are ready to hail another "good fellow" who has the price.

The young man who gets the sleep his system needs, is temperate in his habits, lives within his means and shows up for work in the morning with a clear eye and active brain—there's the boy business men are looking for. They want employees they can trust. Having worked hard and laid by a competence they want to throw some of the burdens off, and they won't throw them off on the employee who is too much of a "good fellow."

Out it out, boys. There's nothing in it. There's a whole lot of nonsense in that "good fellow" business. You can't fool the public very long by living beyond your means and keeping up appearances. There must be a show down somewhere or other, and that means loss of self-respect and many bitter experiences. All men will think more of you if you build yourself in and don't try to live a wise existence on a best income.

Many a bright and promising business man has failed because he tried to travel in too swift a class. Whereas had he lived within his means he might have become a highly successful merchant.

The world does not give up its treasures easily. It isn't in the card for us all to be millionaires, and mighty few of the "good fellows" got into that class. It is best to earn your way first and then to go hunting for good times when you have reached the point where you can spare both the time and the money. Then, possibly, you'll have more sense and have a different notion about what a good time is.—Walden Star.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For State Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce H. H. HEN-NINGER, Wayne county, a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Henry Wilkerson, charged with poisoning his wife, was given a life sentence at Mumfordsville last week. Before he was charged with the horrible deed he stood well in Hart County.

The South in all probability will again be visited by the yellow fever plague this year. It has already made its appearance at Vera Cruz, Mexico, and a number of deaths have occurred.

Charley Finley is not very well pleased with Henry E. Yontsey's visit to the grand jury and he writes another card. Don't be alarmed, Charley, the Kentucky authorities will get on to your curve in due time.

Judge H. W. Bruce, who was a member of the Confederate Congress and an honored citizen of the city of Louisville, died at his residence last Thursday morning. His ability as a lawyer and pure life was well-known throughout Kentucky.

The tobacco growers in the South are up against the trusts.
They have laid before the President and Attorney General a complaint that the combines are ruining the price of their product, especially in Virginia and North Carolina.

The recent announcement that Governor General Taft, of the Philippines, may be appointed to the supreme bench has caused considerable comment in these islands.
The people generally are adverse to having General Taft leave them and petitions have been sent to President Roosevelt urging him to allow them to retain their governor.

Henry E. Yontsey denies the statement made by Charles Finley in an interview at Indianapolis to the effect that his confession to the grand jury of Franklin county was brought about by torture or ill-treatment. He asserts, also, that he has received no promise of a pardon or commutation of sentence and that his story was told freely, frankly and voluntarily.

Three negroes were among the earliest guests to arrive at the White House reception for the judiciary last Thursday night. They were cordially greeted by President Roosevelt. Southern Congressmen and Senators present left the reception, some of them declaring that they would attend no more receptions if negroes were to be invited.

Last Wednesday Gov. Beckham received the fifth annual report of the State Prison Commissioners.
The report showed that 1,740 convicts were under contract. Both prisons show a deficit on account of improvements made, but that of Eddyville is the smallest in the history of the institution. The prisoners are divided as follows:
1,275 at Frankfort, 549 at Eddy-ville.

The following United States Senators were elected by their respective Legislative bodies last week: J. Hopkins, Illinois; Orville H. Platt, Connecticut; H. C.
Hansbrough, North Dakota; Jacob H. Gallinger, New Hampshire; R. A. Alger, Michigan; Boies Penrose, Pennsylvania; A. B. Kittredge, South Dakota; W. J.
Stonewall, Missouri; T. C. Platt, New York; Reed Smoot, Utah; James
P. Clarke, Arkansas.

Every sensible person likes to hear a well-informed man expound the Scriptures, giving his reasons for the faith that is in him, but there is too much unseasonal foolishness being dished out in some localities. A correspondent to the Glasgow Times, writing from Glasgow Junction, and speaking of a man now doing that town, says: "He preaches daily on the streets to whoever will listen. He has the peculiar proclivity of leaping high into the air at the most unexpected times during his discourse. He declared last Saturday that it was no trouble to jump when you had the second blessing, and, to prove the fact, he jumped four times in rapid succession about two-thirds as high as the salt-barrel which he was using as a pulpit. After finishing his services he went about twenty paces up the street, and, looking back and seeing the crowd still looking at him, hallooed out,
'Glory! glory to God!' and went through some more original acrobatic performances. He promises to be here as long as God will allow."

Now that the tariff tax of 67 cents per ton on coal has been temporarily removed by way of favor to the consumer, the Chicago Chronicle wonders why the tariff on meats is permitted to remain. The tariff on cattle is from $2. to $2.75 per head; on swine
$1.50 per head; sheep, 75 cents to $1.50 per head; bacon and ham, 5 cents per pound; beef, veal, mustard and pork 3 cents per pound.
The Chronicle further points out that the tariff on wool ranges from 50 to 100 per cent. It intends to be surprised because the same consideration that has been given to the coal consumers has not been given to the consumers of meat and to the consumers of wool.

An Indiana man sends Caleb Powere two hundred dollars to aid in his next trial. He also adds that a "just God is watching over him." To which the Bardstown Record adds: "Caleb Powere will have a much fairer trial for his life than was given Wm. Goebel, and the God who will look on at the trial is the same God who saw Wm. Goebel murdered."

Mr. Harry Sommers, editor of the Elizabethtown News, will leave on a tour in February.
He will visit principal points in Europe, Asia and Africa. He is an entertaining writer and his letters to his paper will be read with much interest. The newspaper fraternity of Kentucky wish him a pleasant journey and a safe return.

The St. Louis Republic humor-ously remarks concerning the very late invention: "Marconi may live to hear of professional prize fights being conducted by his wireless telegraph system. In fact, the time may come when Kipling's poems will be flashed around the world and prevent grave international disturbances."

A representative Republican of this county was in the News office a few days ago, and in discussing the political situation and especially what is going on at Washington he said: "You ought to fight the trusts and combines with fire—give them fits in every issue of your paper. They are ruining the country."

A Democratic primary will be held throughout Kentucky on Saturday, May 9 for the purpose of nominating candidates for State offices. The call issued by the committee will be published in the News at an early date.

The Republicans of Casey county, in Convention last Monday, nominated Capt. Ed. Polley to represent Casey and Russell in the next Legislature, and Mr. James Gibony for re-election to the office of Circuit Court Clerk of Casey.

BRASEL—HARRIS.

Brilliant Wedding Was the Week's Feature at Tazewell.

Tazewell, Tenn., Jan. 24.—On yesterday at 4 p. m., at the Baptist church here, occurred the wedding of Mr. Charles H. Brasel, of Macon, Ga., to Miss Mary Emma Harris, of Tazewell, Va. C. M. Reid, of Middleboro, Ky., officiated, while Prof. F. L. Harris, of Berkeley Gap, Tenn., played the wedding march for the occasion.

At the first strains of the beautiful Lohengrin march the brides, J. W. Harris, of Charlottesville, Va., and Hon. H. Y. Hughes, W. H. Eppes and W. H. Carr, of Tazewell, moved down the church aisle. Mrs. James P. Kivette, as matron of honor, followed next and then the little flower girls preceded the bride, who was leaning on the arm of her father. The groom, attended by his best man, the Hon. W. R. Hodges, of Morrisstown, met them at the altar.

The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white tulle and chiffon, hand embroidered in clover blossoms, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The groom was accompanied by a pitiful. Hodges has been a very jealous fellow, but at no time the demon as has been reported by some papers.

The people of this community received with satisfaction the wedding night the intelligence of the death of Mrs. —Walton, the devoted wife of Rev. T. F. Walton, who was four years ago stricken with paralysis.

At the time this killing occurred the negro was advancing upon a white pitiful. Hodges has been a very jealous fellow, but at no time the demon as has been reported by some papers.

The citizens of Russell Springs, Russell county, are making an effort for the removal of the county seat. They propose to build the courthouse at Russell Springs, and to have the people of the county will vote for the measure. It will require a two-thirds vote of the whole county to carry the proposition. There was a meeting of citizens last week to advance the measure, but the action taken has not been reported to us. Of course the removal of the county seat and the fight the proposition. In fact, an order has already been made for the building of a new jail at Jamestown, and it probably the building will be in progress before the vote is submitted, should an election be called.

The Courier-Journal contained a long article last week about Ed Logden, who is said to be slowly dying at the residence of a friend in Horse Cave. The writer stated that Logden had killed eleven men and perhaps had killed others. Logden's acts are well known throughout this section, and he has never been truly charged with killing but one man—a negro, at New Market, Marion county. At the time this killing occurred the negro was advancing upon a white pitiful. Hodges has been a very jealous fellow, but at no time the demon as has been reported by some papers.

STRAIED.

From my stable in Greensburg, Ky., Dec. 19th, a dark bay horse, four years old, 144 pounds high; has a little white hind foot just above hoof. Also has a brand mark on left side of neck half way from shoulder to head. Finder will please notify.

Greensburg, Ky. J. M. ROOKS.

Mr. John W. Sublett has bought Mr. H. B. Dunbar's interest in the store at Cave Valley which has been run in their names.

The grand jury continues in session, and it is said they will return an unusually large number of indictments.

JOPPA.

Winter weather continues in our section of country.

Prof. R. O. Cabell made a business trip to Dunville last week.

Mr. Charlie Murrell, who recently returned from Illinois, is erecting a new dwelling for his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Murrell, near Zion.

We are glad to welcome Dr. S. P. Miller and family, who recently moved in our neighborhood.

The school at Zion is progressing nicely under the management of Mr. A. O. Young. Mr. Young is a fine teacher and parents will do well to send their children in school where there is such a teacher.

Miss Maranda Williams is teaching a subscription school at the residence of Mrs. Eliza Conover.

Miss Bell Butler, of Mt. Pleasant, is visiting Miss Elsie and Tinnie Conover.

Uncle Elsie Powell, who has been laid up with paralysis for some time does not improve any.

Mr. Irvin Blair, of Cray Craft, was here last week in the interest of insurance.

L. C. Cabell, of Dunville, was here a few days ago. He is informed as that he will open a school near Dunville, January 25.

We are glad to state that Mrs. Anderson Holladay, who has been quite sick, is improving.

A number of our young folks were highly entertained at a game of ping-pong at the residence of Mrs. Ellen Holladay last Thursday night.

Mr. Eura Morris, of Onark, was here last week visiting poultry.

Mr. Virgie Epperson and family, of Montpelier, visited the family of Mr. Theo. Powell a few days ago.

The Bible class is progressing nicely at Shilo and much interest is being manifested.

Mrs. Fannie Willis is having a large brood of chickens.

Mr. Anderson Holladay is in the South with a number of mules for sale.

The Sunday school at Zion is in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Montie Montgomery is having a new addition put to his residence.

Mr. Pink Coffey, our merchant, was here, pleased and is having a fine trade.

Mr. Frank Hammond and family, of Seventy-Six, are visiting the family of W. F. Sanders.

Mr. James Bryant, who was burned some time ago is recovering and will soon be his former self again.

Mr. James Page passed through here Thursday enroute to some point on Niagara, with a fine bunch of cattle.

There was a big "hog" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turpin last Saturday night. All report a fine time.

Josh Montgomery had a mare badly hurt last week by jumping a picket fence.

Eld. Tobias Huffaker will preach at Shilo on the first Sunday in February, 11 o'clock.

There is some talk of quite an acreage of tobacco being planted this year.

There is no foundation to the report that Clarence Montgomery had sold the stock of goods to John H. Bell. Montgomery told the News correspondent that he did not care to sell at present.

several thousand feet of timber to his yard on Sulphur and Russell creeks.

A Campbellville man was here a few days offering good prices for any kind of timber.

Mr. Thomas Dunbar will plant about seventy-five acres in corn this season.

Wm. G. Roy attended circuit court as a juror.

Lots of fine fish are being caught on Sulphur and Russell creeks.

Tim Montgomery says his last fishing trip with Prof. John Henry Holladay broke him from fishing. He doesn't like a mixture of cold water and hounds.

Tom Waggoner will leave some time soon for Illinois, where he will spend several months. Sorry to lose Jack, as he is familiarly called, for he is one of our best boys. However we will see him again before the leaves fall.

Rumor has it that one of our best young men and a popular young lady, residing in a certain village not far distant, will take the yows that had them together for better or worse before many moons shall have come and gone.

There is cholera in the air and buzzards by the pair. Hog meat's getting scarce, and it's hardly a hair. The farmer sits with bowed head, wishing all the cholera was dead, and the buzzards had it by the ear, taking it to some unknown sphere. Alas! for the farmer and piglet too, the cholera is here and don't give a sow, for all their efforts to drive it away—their hands are tied and a sinner's fate.

The News fiducially with all its vicinity. Its news columns are clean and breezy and its editorial bright and to the point. Every man has the undeniable right to his belief and to express himself accordingly. Let him be Jew or Gentile, Democrat or Republican, and all broad minded people will accord him that right. The man who is true to his convictions is a good citizen, but the man who is false to his convictions is a dastard.

We have in our town four general stores, and they all carry a complete line of every thing kept in a grocery store. The only thing we need is just a few more customers. We can furnish corn at 40¢ per bushel; corn at 25¢ per hundred; hams, lard and every thing else in proportion to the above prices. We cordially thank the public for past patronage and kindly solicit a share in the future.

Geo. H. Nell was at Burksville last week buying stock.

R. L. Caldwell visited his mother at Portland last week.

I. L. Rousseau and Jack Dickinson, of Glasgow, were here last week looking after insurance.

W. C. Yates, of Portland, was here the first of the week.

H. C. Walker was in Columbia one day last week.

S. C. Neat, of Columbia, was with us last week selling groceries.

Mr. Jesse Breeding, of Leatherwood, was here last week and informed us that hogs were dying in his community with cholera.

L. B. Rardin, an up-to-date farmer of this section, was here last week and informed us that during the month of January he made ten thousand boards.

W. L. Grady's large stable will soon be completed and it will be the largest one in this section of the county.

W. C. Yates and wife, of Portland, visited relatives here Saturday.

Owing to bad weather Eld. Z. T. Williams did not preach here on Friday night before the fourth Sunday.

Revs. Deband and Sandage, who are holding a meeting at Antioch are having wonderful success. There have been several conversions and the community greatly revived.

We will have quarterly meeting in our town the second Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. James Page passed through here Thursday enroute to some point on Niagara, with a fine bunch of cattle.

There was a big "hog" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turpin last Saturday night. All report a fine time.

Josh Montgomery had a mare badly hurt last week by jumping a picket fence.

Eld. Tobias Huffaker will preach at Shilo on the first Sunday in February, 11 o'clock.

There is some talk of quite an acreage of tobacco being planted this year.

There is no foundation to the report that Clarence Montgomery had sold the stock of goods to John H. Bell. Montgomery told the News correspondent that he did not care to sell at present.

Mr. Morris is engaged in buying produce.

Luther Conover was here Tuesday looking up a logging contract.

There was a lively time for a few minutes at Will Garnett's, on Glenfork, one day last week. By some means a few cartridges found their way to the fire and shortly afterwards the skirmish line opened. Fortunately no one was hurt and no damage done.

Mr. Chas. Hobson, of Campbellville, was here Thursday. He purchased the stock of goods to John H. Bell. Montgomery told the News correspondent that he did not care to sell at present.

DEVELOPING.

Henry B. Youtsey concluded his testimony before the Franklin county circuit court last Saturday, after a seven-day's examination. He was remanded to the custody of the warden of the penitentiary, with instructions that he be held in readiness to again go before the grand jury whenever called for by the commonwealth.

J. B. Matthews, assistant secretary of state under Caleb Powers, has given a statement declaring that Taylor, Finley, Culton, Youtsey and Golden knew of the assassination of Goebel and that he had given information to the commonwealth to that effect.

One of the grand-jurors of the Franklin circuit court, has been approached with an offer of bribery. The matter was reported to Judge Cantrell, and the accused party disappeared. It is reported that the alleged briber was a thought for a Cincinnati paper.

The investigations of the grand-jury will continue through the present week.

Leander Guffy, son of Judge B. L. D. Guffy, and tipstaff of the court of appeals, is said to have left the state and located in Indiana.

It is conceded that the developments of the past two weeks will bear a most important relation to the new trial of Jim Howard in Frankfort in April, and Caleb Powers in Georgetown in May.—Glasgow Times.

OUT IN MISSOURI.

A Missouri editor who is about to pull up and leave for lack of support sarcastically remarks in parting that editors don't need money. Don't worry about the editor, he says. "He has a charter from the State to act as door-mat for the community. He'll get the paper out somehow, and stand up for you when you run for office and lie about your pigeon-toed daughter's tacky wedding, and tell about your big-footed sons when they get a four-dollar-a-week job, and weep over your shriveled soul when it is released from your grasping body and smile at your giddy wife's second marriage. He'll get along. The Lord only knows how—but the editor will get there somehow."—Ex.

The Eleventh district has received condemnation and bitter approbrium from various sections of the state. Many bitter things have been said of our hapless region. Our people have been deceived into supporting men and newspapers who have not guarded our honor. The vicious press will not be held guiltless in the great day of reckoning for the part they have played in leading a patriotic people astray. The selfish politicians will not always evade the responsibility for leading generous and dependent people into endorsement of their false attitude towards the tribunals of the state. It will yet require years to efface the hate and revenge that has been implanted and fostered in the minds of our people. Judged by the lawless record of a few leaders, it will take time for the restoration of a true section of home-loving, hospitable and brave people to the confidence of their brethren of the same class in more favored regions. But the day is coming. Be patient.—Somerset Journal.

MISTAKES ON LIFE TO AVOID.
Not to yield in unwarlike matters.
To endeavor to avoid an disposition, alike.

To look for perfection in one's own actions.
To expect uniformity of opinion to this world.
To measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect to be able to understand everything.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

Not to make allowances for the infirmities of others.

To consider everything impossible that we cannot perform.

To worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate all that needs alleviation as far as lies in our power.

It is a great mistake to set up our own standard of right and wrong and judge people accordingly.

Tried to Conceal it.
It's the old story of "murder will out" only in this case there's no crime. A woman feels run down, has backache or dyspepsia and thinks it's nothing and tries to hide it until she finally breaks down. Don't deceive yourself. Take Electric Bitters at once. It has a reputation for curing Stomach, Liver and Kidney trouble and will revivify your whole system. The worst forms of those maladies will quickly yield to the curative power of Electric Bitters. Only 50c, and guaranteed by all druggists.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

The Goebel reward commission met last Monday.

The Court of Appeals has overruled the decision for a rehearing of the Powers and Howard appeals. The Knox oil men are complaining because of alleged excessive valuation of their property for taxation.

The old Burbank factory in Henderson has been selected as the site for the new public building.

Red Hugsie, wanted on a murder charge, has been arrested in Arkansas and taken to Henderson.

At Central City, Mrs. T. Q. Fortney's dress ignited as she was passing by the fire under a kettle in her yard, and she was badly burned that she died several hours later.

According to J. B. Matthews, First Assistant Secretary of State under Caleb Powers, Henry Youtsey was to have been private Secretary to Taylor had the Legislature decided in his favor for Governor.

In defense of his mother, Thomas Whitman, aged thirteen, shot and killed his aunt, Miss Mary Phillips, aged thirty-five, near Hopkinsville. Miss Phillips was insane, and in a fit of rage had attacked Mrs. Whitman.

A business meeting of the Kentucky Press Association was held at Louisville last Monday, at which only matters directly pertaining to the interests of the newspaper fraternity were discussed.

Butler Barnes, of Montgomery county, drew $400 out of the bank and started for Crawfordsville, and, to his brother. When he arrived at Louisville he decided to view the sights of the city by gas light and in the "red light" district was robbed of $480.

In the circuit court at New Castle the damage suit of Mrs. Frank Bots against Mr. J. J. Hartford, for squeezing her hand, the jury awarded her one dollar, and put the cost on Mr. Hartford, aggregating about $200. Mrs. Bots sued for $2,500, and alleged that Mr. Hartford's powerful grip permanently injured her hand.

James Riddell, a member of the Franklin county grand jury, was approached by a man who gave him his name as McDowell, and was offered $400 for information as to what Youtsey told in the grand jury room. He claimed to be a detective from Indianapolis, and said the information would be used as the basis of a plot to kidnap Taylor and return him to Kentucky. It seems very certain that "McDowell" was a newspaper correspondent from Cincinnati. He left Frankfort suddenly. The Sheriff was directed to secure his capture if possible.

J. B. Matthews, of Somerset, who was Assistant Secretary of State under Caleb Powers, has made a statement in regard to the assassination of Gov. William Goebel. He names W. S. Taylor, Charlie Finley, Henry E. Youtsey, W. H. Culton and Warton Golden as the men he believes responsible for the murder conspiracy. Matthews says he has told all he knows to the Commonwealth's Attorney. He expresses the belief that Caleb Powers is innocent, though he admits that others than those he names may have figured in the conspiracy.

"OBEY" IN THE MARRIAGE VOW.

There are strong-minded women who insist on the omission of "obey" from the wife's vow in the marriage ceremony, and magistrate studiously avoid the use of the word, being apparently fearful of wounding the sensibilities of the bride at the altar. A Western clergyman the other day said that he had dropped the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony, "because a man has a right to wifely obedience only so long as he deserves it. Would retaining the word secure to an unworthy husband a continuance of wifely obedience? Certainly not." The marriage vow, in the same sentence, requires the wife to "love" and "honor" the husband.

No objection is being made to those requirements. Yet it was not contended that the husband who dishonors himself must continue to be honored by the wife because of her vow. The husband who proves recreant to his great trust, who is found to be a thief, a murderer or a drunkard after marriage, cannot possibly be honored by a good woman.

"Obey," as it is used in the marriage ceremony, does not contemplate a slavish compliance on the part of the wife with the wishes or commands of the husband. There is no obligation on the part of the wife to do that which she knows to be wrong because her husband tells her to do it. "Love, honor and obey," says the ritual. The three specifications are to be taken in connection with each other. The woman who loves and honors a man will obey his wishes, even before they are put into words; and it is the same on the part of the man. He will give the queen of the household precisely the same obedience that she gives him—the obedience of love. It is the desire of each to please the other. A Queen of England once told her husband, "I will give you any amount of obedience if you will give me an equal amount of love." She understood the word in its highest meaning and knew that it would not be unbecoming a queen to render her husband the obedience that was the sincere desire of her heart to give. The late Queen Victoria, it is said, insisted upon "obey" being retained in the ceremony that united her with the husband she idolized, because she wanted to be married as a woman, not as a queen.

In the household where there is real love and affection, there are no such things as commands and obedience in an offensive or oppressive sense. Wishes are anticipated wherever they may be, and obedience is yielded not through fear or because of the wondering of the marriage formula, but because it gives mutual pleasure to wife and husband.—Ex.

A Marvellous Invention.

Wonders never cease. A machine has been invented that will cut, paste and hang wall paper. The field of inventions and discoveries seems to be unlimited. Notable among great discoveries is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It has done a world of good for weak lungs and saved many a life. Thousands have used it and conquered Grip, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption. Their general verdict is: "It's the best and most reliable medicine for throat and lung troubles. Every 50c and $1.00 bottle is guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free at all druggists."

Have you ever used Dr. Cassie's Cough Syrup in your family or for yourself? If you have not, don't judge it by other cough syrups that you have used, for there is no comparison. Dr. Cassie's Cough Syrup cures by relieving the lungs of inflammation. It never dries up or stops the cough without removing the cause. Sold by M. Cravens.

If pistol duels on street cars and in public places are to become the order, everybody will have to be addressed as "Colonel," "Captain" or "General," according to the number of firearms he carries and his record as a marksman. One good way to stop street battles is to fix a heavy punishment against carrying instruments of war.—St. Louis Republic.

WONDERFUL NERVE.
Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Cuts, Wounds, Bruises Burns Scalds, Sore feet or stiff joints. But there is no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at all druggists.

President Roosevelt has acted harshly and with a suggestion of the autocratic spirit in abolishing the Post Office at Indianola, Miss., rather than accept the resignation of a woman Postmaster to whom the citizens of that town objected, but who had not been threatened or intimidated in any manner. The smallest American village has rights which even the most strenuous American President must respect, and Indianola's right to a post office has now been sacrificed in a politician's play for personal profit as a candidate for the presidential nomination.—St. Louis Republic.

There are two good rules which ought to be written on every heart: Never to believe anything bad about anybody unless you positively know to be true; never to kill even that unless you feel that it is absolutely necessary and that God is listening while you talk it.

A DOZEN DON'TS.

Don't waste time disputing the gas meter.

Don't forget to black the heels of your shoes.

Don't trust to luck when you are able to work.

Don't growl at the children and talk carelessly at the dog.

Don't fail to keep every promise you make to your little ones.

Don't forget to mail the letter your wife gave you this morning.

Don't neglect your own business by prying into your neighbors'.

Don't exhaust your supply of good nature before you get home.

Don't grumble at fate until you have exhausted every effort to sue one.

Don't accuse your wife of extravagance as long as your cigar bill is larger than your butcher's bill.

Don't try to make your wife believe it costs you to walk seventeen miles around a billiard table after a hard day's work.

Don't forget that advice is the cheapest thing in the world to give away and the hardest thing in the world to accept and act upon.—Commoner.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in the Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you but, cure. 25c, by all druggists.

South Carolina must bitterly regret her lack of proud and worthy Democrats of the Wade Hampton type when she contemplates, as successors, such figures as are presented by the Tillmans.—St. Louis Republic.
